JOE LEAL DENIES HE HAS RESIGNED

All Of the Portuguese Interpreters May Be Retained

Joe Leal, the Portuguese interpreter of the Police Court, has not sent in his resignation, nor has he any intention of doing so. He makes this statement himself in contradiction of the story to that effect which was published in one of the other papers.

The morning paper had Leal on the list of those devoted to the ax, but Leal's chances of retaining his position seem to be very good. He has been a member of the force for five years and during all that time has been on the carnet out once, an unusually good ecord.

Although Sheriff-elect lanken has nade no statement in regard to the matter, it is believed that he is favorable to both of the Leals and that they will remain where they are.

The man mentioned as the possible uccessor of Joe Leal is Alfred Gombes, a West Indian of ebony hue. But the belief is expressed that a good deal of persuasion would be required to induce Gombes to arrest a Porto Rican for any offense if he could possibly

Joe Dias is another of the Portu guese interpreters who is thought to be pretty sure of keeping his position Apparently he thinks so himself, and is going around now with a broad smile on his face, not much like a man who expects to feel the ax descend on $147.50; 20 Oahu Suz.
